

THREE NEW CASES

The Yellow Fever Continues to Spread at the Soldiers' Home at Hampton, Va.

THIS MAKES FORTY CASES IN ALL.

There has been some Yellow Fever infection in the neighboring village of Phoebus, Va.

Its Appearance There, Dr. Wyman Thinks, Under the Circumstances, is Simply a Coincidence—No Other Nearby Towns Report Its Appearance.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—"Three new cases of yellow fever in the soldiers' home at Hampton and one death," is the official report received here Tuesday night by the General. Wyman, Dr. of Wading, the yellow fever expert on duty at the institution. Added to Dr. Wading's figures sent to Dr. Wyman Monday, this makes up to date 40 cases in all which have occurred at the home, of which eight have proved fatal.

Surgeon White Tuesday telegraphed Dr. Wyman that in his opinion there was little doubt that there had been local fever infection in the neighboring village of Phoebus, but the surgeon general said Tuesday night that this disease had not been followed by any evidence of a positive case at that place. Should the fever develop there, however, no surprise will be felt in view of the proximity of the place to the soldiers' home and the mixing of the inmates of the institution with the people of Phoebus.

Its appearance at Phoebus, Dr. Wyman thinks, under these circumstances, would be simply a coincidence. The opinion was expressed Tuesday night that the situation in the neighborhood was encouraging, inasmuch as the disease has kept within its original bounds. None of the nearby towns other than Phoebus has reported the appearance of infection or suspicious cases. The people for miles around the home are very much alarmed, but are quiet.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—Surgeon General Wyman during the afternoon received a message from Surgeon White, of the Hampton home, thanking him for the prompt service of the marine hospital service officials and saying there was no further spread of the epidemic in the home. The message read:

"Two cases, one death last day." The Washington officials were delighted with this meant, in view of the statement that the disease had not spread.

Surgeon White wired Dr. Wyman that he arrived at Hampton Monday night, that the quarantine had been unanimously turned over to the local authorities to the marine hospital service, and that he had accepted it. He said:

"There is little doubt that there may have been infection in Phoebus, Va. under quarantine. Work will be heavy, but we hope for the best. Please approve my order to Richmond for freight train to come here and to Phoebus to bring supplies." Gen. Corbin transferred to Dr. Wyman an order from Gen. Miles to Gen. Merritt, commanding the department of the east, saying that heretofore no vessels should be up at Fort Monroe wharf, unless under the order of Surgeon Pettus, marine hospital officer in charge, of the quarantine there.

The acting secretary of the treasury has transmitted a request to the secretary of war to notify the officer commanding at Fort Monroe that all quarantine measures for the enforcement of the treasury regulations there are in the hands of Surgeon Pettus. It was stated at the office of the marine hospital service Tuesday that there were not more than 200 or 300 people left at old Fort. Special trains will be run there at such intervals as may be necessary to remove the inhabitants, subject to such inspection and detention as may be deemed necessary at Richmond.

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 2.—Yellow fever appeared Tuesday at Phoebus, a little town almost adjoining Hampton. The scourge appeared among the negroes and six cases and two deaths were reported. There was no change in the local situation except that the authorities redoubled their diligence to prevent the fever spreading to this city from Hampton or elsewhere. The mayor, chief of police and police are doing 18 hours' duty daily, and special officers, inspectors and physicians are working day and night perfecting the quarantine against Hampton and neighboring points in the peninsula.

CIVIL RIGHTS LAW

JUDGE ADVOCATE TO BE APPOINTED.

Doctor, on His Way to See a Dying Child, Stopped Because the Girl's Father Was a "Seab."

A Man Refused Medicine at Two Drug Stores, Although He Was in a Critical Condition, Because He Had Hidden on a Big Consolidated Car.

CLEVELAND, O., July 2.—Adj. Gen. Axline said Tuesday night that he found a way to smash the boycott as far as it affected the troops. Every day since the soldiers arrived they have been subjected to petty annoyances because of the refusal of merchants to sell them necessary supplies. Gen. Axline pointed out the other day that these merchants could be prosecuted under the civil rights law, in which requires all keepers of inns, restaurants and places of public amusement and accommodation to serve all people alike. Tuesday Gen. Axline declared that if any more complaints against soldiers came to him he would appoint a judge advocate to proceed against the merchants and thus seek to bring them to heel.

A prominent physician Tuesday night gave an instance of the way in which the boycott is being enforced. He says he was called to see a little girl who was dying. He was met by her mother who told him he had better not attend the child as her father was a "seab." He replied that they ought to serve notice of the boycott on the Almighty and inform him that they would send him to Heaven for the child would be there in a short time.

Monday night a man was refused medicine at two drug stores, even though he was in a critical condition, simply because he had ridden on a Big Consolidated car. The man who was boycotted said that one of the drug stores who refused him medicine was recently saved by him from prosecution for damages for selling poison to be used for a criminal purpose, and that he afterward endorsed the drug store's notes for a considerable amount. He made the statement to show that the drug store was under obligations to him and should have been glad to accommodate him by filling the prescription.

EIGHT HOUR LAW.

The Navy Department Renders a Decision of Great Importance to the Labor Interests.

ALSO TO GOVERNMENT CONTRACTORS.

Law Permits Employment of Workmen on Government Work for More Than Eight Hours.

But It Is Only in Cases of Extraordinary Emergency—Judge Advocate General Lays Down a New Doctrine in Construction of the Law.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—The navy department has rendered a decision constraining the eight hour law that is of importance to all labor interests as well as to government contractors. The commander of the Washington navy yard recently asked authority from the department to permit the contractor, who is building the new gunships in the yard to employ his workmen ten hours per day. In support of this application it was stated that during the progress of the work the operation of the machinery was to be stopped and the floor was to be changed by exposure to rain.

The judge advocate general's department has pointed out that the law permits the employment of workmen on government works for more than eight hours per day "only in case of extraordinary emergency," and then lays down a new doctrine in the construction of this law as follows:

"Inasmuch as the conditions reported to me as having been foreseen when the contract was made and are such as necessarily exist to a greater or less degree which favor work of the character referred to is in progress, the department is of the opinion that the case can not be regarded as one of extraordinary emergency. "In cases of this character it would appear that if the public property can not be sufficiently protected from damage otherwise, the proper remedy would be to employ a force of men in day, by which means the work could be expedited much more effectively."

NINE PERSONS HURT.

A Traction Car Run Into Two Carriages Filled With Mourners in a Funeral Cortège at Pittsburg.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 2.—Two carriages filled with mourners in the funeral cortège of Mrs. Harry Smith were struck Tuesday by a Consolidated traction car on Fifth avenue and nine persons were severely hurt. Those hurt the worst are: Rev. J. H. Fitzwilliams and two daughters, Dr. Fawcett, undertaker, and James Flannery and driver James O'Brien. None of the injured are fatally hurt, but suffer from bad cuts and bruises.

As the funeral procession was proceeding eastward, the car was coming out at a good rate of speed. The first two carriages endeavored to get out of the track but were impeded by heavy truck blockade. The car struck the carriages broadside, demolishing them and throwing O'Brien a distance of 30 feet against a fence, where he lay unconscious until picked up. The other victims were thrown about in all directions.
